

REVIEW FORM

The editors of the ‘Quarterly Journal of the History of Science and Technology’ kindly ask you to review the paper submitted to the Journal. We ask you to assess the paper according to the following form and to send it back within a month. The reviewers are not paid.

The editors do not disclose the names of the reviewers together with the reviewed papers. The names of the reviewers who assessed the articles that were published, withdrawn, and rejected in a given year are listed in one of the Journal’s issues in the following year and at the Journal’s website.

Throughout the reviewing process, the editors kindly ask you to observe the publication ethics and peer-reviewing procedures applied by the ‘Quarterly Journal of the History of Science and Technology’, which are published at the Journal’s website.

REVIEW

Paper title:

Does the content of the article pertain to the history of science, education or technology and/or to the philosophy of science?
Has the research problem been formulated correctly?
Is the content of the article consistent with its title?
Is the abstract of the article concise and consistent with its content?
Is the paper structured coherently?
Have the paper’s conclusions been duly substantiated?
Does the paper contribute to scientific knowledge?
Are all of the illustrations in the article related to its content? (if applicable)

Detailed evaluation and comments:

REVIEW FORM

Recommendation:

Publish

Publish after revision

Further review after revision

Reject

REVIEWER'S DECLARATIONS

Reviewer's degree or title, name, and affiliation:

I declare that I do not know the identity of the author of the paper, or that there is no conflict of interest as far as the reviewed paper is concerned. Conflict of interest is understood as: holding a subordinate or a superior post; other economic relations that may affect impartial evaluation; direct scientific cooperation within two years prior to the review; immediate personal relationship.

I declare that I have made myself acquainted with the publication ethics and peer-reviewing procedures applied by the 'Quarterly Journal of the History of Science and Technology', published at the Journal's website, and I have observed them throughout the assessment of the paper.

I hereby give my consent to the processing of my personal data in respect of using my review in the publication process.

Date and signature*

* A filled out form sent by e-mail and lacking a handwritten signature is considered as signed.