

CONTENTS

Aikaterini Lefka, Introduction to Volume 1.4. Eleatic Ontology in Plato . . .	5
Claudia Luchetti, In Memory of Maurizio Migliori	11
Maurizio Migliori, The Different Aspects of the Relationship Between Plato's Philosophy and the Eleatic School	17
Francesca Eustacchi, The Eleatic Elements in the Metaphysical Reflection and in the Physical Mentions of the Parmenides	35
Luc Brisson, The Ontology of Parmenides According to Plato's Parmenides	53
Saloni de Souza, Everything in Its Right Place: Zeno's Paradox of Place in Part 2 of the Parmenides	65
Annie Larivée, What Socrates Learned from Parmenides. Part 1. Parmenides' Gymnasia and Socrates' Intellectual Virtues	89
Annie Larivée, What Socrates Learned from Parmenides. Part 2. Hypothesis, Antilogy, and Philosophical Self-Defense in the Phaedo . . .	119
Chloe Balla, Zeno and Antilogic	139
About the Authors and Editors	157