

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Editorial note	13
----------------------	----

DISSERTATIONS AND ESSAYS

1. Elwira Buszewicz, Motifs of sleeping and dreaming in the Latin and French verse by the poets of La Pléiade	17
2. Joanna Danielska, The Song about Saint Job – traditions and lasting	27
3. Jacek Gładzewski, History and narrative. On an episode in Siedlce in Jan Chryzostom Pasek's diaries	53
4. Maja Jarnuszkiewicz, Ille ego – 'lyric self' creation modes in the Old Polish 'autothematic' poems	69
5. Maria Kozłowska, Two Old Polish translations of 'De vanitate mundi' by Jakob Balde in the context of the original text	95
6. Joanna Pypłacz, Spectacula praedae. The story of Acteon and of Nastagio degli Onesti	111
7. Renata Ryba, Fashion and sin in the light of baroque exempla	135
8. Lucyna Sterczewska, Głośny rezon... Christmas carols in the 18th century manuscripts from the monastery of enclosed Carmelite nuns in Cracow	151
9. Rafał Toczko, What is the use of Plato for the modern culture? Platonic basis of Gadamer's hermeneutics	179

REVIEWS AND ANALYSES

1. Justyna Kiliańczyk-Zięba, Tobiasz Wiszniewski, „Treny”, ed. by Jacek Wójcicki, Warszawa 2008 (Biblioteka Dawnej Literatury Popularnej i Okolicznościowej, vol. IV) 191
2. Teresa Banaś-Korniak, Andrzej Dąbrówka, „Średniowiecze. Korzenie”, Warszawa 2005 (Wydawnictwo Naukowe PWN) 197
3. Piotr Borek, On a new edition of ‘Pieśni’ by Jan Gawiński 205
4. Aneta Kliszczyk, New publications 211

EDITIONS AND TRANSLATIONS

1. Marian Szarmach, Titus Flavius Clemens on salacious words 221
 2. Titus Flavius Clemens, On salacious words 222
 3. Mariola Jarczyk, Letters of Maciej Kazimierz Sarbiewski and Janusz Radziwiłł 225
 4. Copies of letters of Sarbiewski, a Jesuit, and His Highness Prince Janusz Radziwiłł, transcription and translation by Aleksandra Golik Prus 231
- Notes on Authors 243